770 Model , sliding to September

The extension of the 770/2016 model is for next 15th September. The request for extension of the expiry of the 770/2016 model came from all major professional associations or ANC, AIDC, ADC, Unagraco, Unique, and ANDOC Ungdcec. The reasons are well known: too many tight fiscal deadlines and Agency barrage of letters of incoming revenue for taxpayers. The usual deadline of ordinary 770/2016, streamlined model is 31st July.

The business model Canvas

The Business Model is the way in which a company organizes itself and its offer: the aim is to create the highest possible value for its customers. Today the dynamism and speed are prerequisites to meet the fast changing market. With Canvas you have, a single sheet, the full vision of what must be done and how it must be done, by being able to:

- Create a truly significant value for its customers
- Increase profits and reduce costs
- Improve the ability to become a strong market player and recognized

The Business Model Canvas is a powerful framework within which are represented in the form of 9 blocks constituent elements of a company.

Thanks to the intuition of Alexander Osterwalder this model has revolutionized the way of representing a business model. The idea was included in the book entitled: "Business Model Generation". With ease, all have the ability to understand complex elements that affect the entire company operation: this is the communicative benefit of Canvas.

Securing the Smart Cities

Securing the Smart Cities is an international initiative regarding the security of smart cities, which aims to create more and more solid protective barriers to counter the phenomenon of cyber-crime. Securing the Smart Cities, which is a non-profit initiative, aims to make Smart Cities places more secure from computer-related attacks. In the smart city, IT security plays a vital role in the protection of the highest levels of confidentiality, availability and integrity, as well as the stability that the national services and organizations need to support sustainable and livable smart environments.
